

North Hollywood Station Master Plan
Los Angeles

The goal of the master plan produced by Suisman Urban Design is to create an innovative transportation center and mixed use development in the heart of North Hollywood (NoHo). The centerpiece is a contemporary landmark building in the tradition of the great train stations. The station integrates mobility by train, bus, car, bike, and walking in a vibrant urban setting. Cafes, kiosks, restaurants, and shops are surmounted by loft-like offices. Across the street, the district is animated by apartment buildings, office towers and theaters forming the heart of North Hollywood's Arts District.
